

November Head of School Update:

The Search Committee of the Board of Trustees will begin searching for an Interim Head of School (HOS) for ACDS for the 2018-19 school year. After finalist visits in October and careful review of input from all stakeholders, the Board offered Stephen Steiner the position of HOS. Due to family circumstances, he declined the offer.

At this time, the Search Committee believes that an Interim HOS gives us an opportunity to position the school for the future while we continue the search for the best fit for our permanent HOS. The Search Committee and its consultant will create a condensed position statement and list of goals for the Interim HOS, and the job will be posted by the end of next week. Both national and local candidates are encouraged to apply.

Once the job description is posted, an e-mail with a link to the posting will be sent to the school community. The Search Committee will review all applications and interview candidates who meet the criteria. Then, we will recommend an Interim HOS to the Board. Next summer, the Search Committee will re-embark on the permanent HOS search. Please direct any questions to the Search Committee Chair, Natalie Monroe, or the Board President, Susan Broussard.
