Science Summer Camp

Wouldn't it be great if we could unzip our skin and take a quick peek inside our body? For practical reasons, we will instead take a look inside other organisms such as a starfish and frog. By dissecting each organism and understanding its environment, we will learn why humans and animals are the way they are. We will touch and feel organs such as hearts, brains and eyes and learn about their particular function. For students entering 6th through 8th grades during the 2017-2018 school year.

June 12 - 15

9:00 am - 12:00 pm

COST:

$275 per student
